While the weather remained cool it would have been difficult to convince you that you could not afford to go through the summer without a Refrigerator, or even with a poor one.

NOW that your meat has spoiled and your milk has soured, and your butter has melted, and your berries have moulded—

You can see for yourself that from every point of view it will pay you to have a Refrigerator and a good one at that.

Besides saving your food, it will save you doctor's bills and drug bills, and nurse bills—

Because more than half of the sickness of summer is caused by the imperceptible deterioration of food stuffs that are not kept cool.

We carry Refrigerators that are scientifically built to produce the best results-the lowest temperature with the least consumption of ice, the greatest convenience and economy in arrangement of compartments, easiest to keep clean and sweet---

As the Press very pertinently points out, it is the province of the state committee to conduct the campaign of the man who is nominated, not to do any "hand picking" to determine in advance who he shall be

Another rather curious thing is noted by the Bress in this connection. This is presidential year and the main efforts of the committee should be properly directed to promoting the interests of the presidential nominee. The press bureau of the committee, however, seems to have shunted Justice Hughes onto a side track. No material is being sent out in his interest; everything is subordinated to Booth for senator.

In 1910 when in a two-fisted fight we won the Republican nomination for governor, Mr. Spreckels was for the Democratic nominee. It would seem, according to Mr. Spreckels, that regular Republicanism meant being regularly for the regular Democratic nominee. The Union reporter subsided. The old line Republican conference in San Francisco Saturday to eliminate a Republican candidate for United States senator was likened to Tammany Hall politics by the governor.

A thousand people filled the hall while a hundred stood in back. Enthusiastic applause punctuated the governor's speech.

"Mr. Barnes and Mr. Murphy of Tammany Hall used to save the people of New York the burden and trouble of selecting their candidates for public office," said the governor, "and now Mr. Crocker and his political henchmen propose with one wave of the hand to save you all the trouble of picking your candidates for United States senator, and to abolish the direct primary. Now members of these committees, declaring themselves to be the "legal governing bodies of the Republican party," arrogate to themselves the right to say who may and who may not be candidates.

This action illustrates very clearly the difference between the reactionary and the progressive Republican view of the direct primary.

The progressive Republican view is that a member of a party committee is chosen at the primary election by the members of the party to perform a certain specified work, and that he has no authority to do other than the work he was chosen to do. He was selected to serve and not to dictate to the members of the party.

The reactionary Republican view is that when the members of a party choose a man to assist in the conduct of a campaign the man so chosen is Women recently in convention fa-vored adoption of a uniform style of dress. Not that any two of them would deliberately choose such style. employers.

It was this same spirit which caused the split in the Republican party in 1912, when more than one-half of the members repudiated the action of the bosses, who held it to be their privilege to dictate and the duty of the mema neighbor wearing a gown or hat bers to obey orders. Now that those who were compelled to leave the Republican party in 1912 are again back within the party the same arrogant spirit is displayed as of old.

Many local motorists already have taken their automobile vacations for the summer and these, returning with stories of the delights they experienced, are stimulating a great amount of enthusiasm among the autoists who have not yet departed.

The idea of Touring Week is to arouse the "do it now" spirit when it comes to taking automobile jaunts—to aid people in definitely making up their minds WHEN they are going to take their tours.

Following are a number of brief accounts of the doings of local motorists—notes of those who have returned, those who are traveling at present and those who intend going during Touring Week.

The Jordan party reached home last night, and they are "doubly strong for Camp Curry," where they stopped during their stay in the valley. They brought home a banner, "I'm Strong for Camp Curry," but they are doubling it because of the excellent treatment they received there.

Jordan advises that anyone intending to go into the valley go in by way of Madera instead of Fresno. The road is much better and faster time can be made. The party traveled in the Jordan Studebaker, and one puncture is the only trouble they had on the entire trip. Jordan claims that his right front wheel picked up a horseshoe nail which a traveler into the valley reported having lost on the road going in. The nail will be rethe valley reported having lost on the road going in. The nail will be returned to the owner, with thanks.

HERE are a number of scenes in beautiful Trabuca canyon, in Orange county. Idyllic haunts, similar to these will be sought by hundreds of Southern California motorists during National Touring Week, which begins Saturday and continues until August 12. Touring week will meet with hearty support from local motorists because of the many miles of molern highways that have just been completed. These new roads make it possible for the autoist to reach scores of charming spots where vacations may be spent—in the mountains and on the seashore.

Suggestions For Tour Week Trips Near Santa Ana

Do you want to tour out of the county during Touring Week?

If you do, take this trip: Leave Santa Ana by way of West Fifth street, and follow the boulevard to Seal Beach and Long Beach; from Long Beach take Anaheim road to Wilmington and San Pedro; return to Wilmington and take marked boulevard to Redondo Beach; from Redondo Beach go to Inglewood, thence to Slauson avenue, and back to Santa Ana by way of Huntington Park Norwalk, Downey and Anaheim; or, if you want to go to Los Angeles, leave Slauson avenue at any of the streets east of Main and go into the city and then on home by way of Whittier, Fullerton and Anaheim.

This is about 120 miles and takes in several of the best beaches in the southland, besides offering travel through some rich farming sections.

The highway to San Diego is one of the most alluring that is possible for motorists to find anywhere in the country. After arriving at Irvine the motorist has his choice of two routes to San Juan Capistrano. Either he may continue to the left, going by way of El Toro, or he may take the road to Laguna, thence via Arch Beach to Serra. The latter route, from Laguna to Serra, is unpaved, but it is good dirt road and for attractiveness is unsurpassed.

The drive along the coast from Serra to San Diego is a constant delight. There are several long the beach and sometimes when the tide is high the spray comes up on the pavement. The popularity of the San Diego trip is attested by the fect that thousands of motorists have made the journey. The trip from Santa Ana, may be made easily in one day and many of the more strenuous motorists have made the round trip in one day easily.

Have you ever traveled over Turnbull grade and through Turnbull canyon at Whittier? If you haven't you have missed one of the many fine treats the improved roads of Southern California offer. The following trip will take you over the grade and will offer a nice inland day's drive: Take state highway to Whittier;

leave boulevard at Tainter avenue and follow avenue to within one block of its end, turn east through Turnbull canyon and over the grade, and follow road to El Monte Pomona boulevard to Puente; turn to left on boulevard, passing over the Bassett bridge, one of the largest in Southern California and thrown open to traffic on boulevard just east of San Gabriel and follow to Colorado avenue, and into Pasadena over Colorado avenue. From Pasadena into Los Angeles either through Eagle Rock, Glendale and Tropico or direct by way of Pasadena aveor direct by way of rasadena average, thence back to Santa Ana either by way of Whittier or Huntington Park. Downey and Compton. The mileage is from 120 to

Templeton, of the Modesto schools; Prof. Ayer of the University of Oregon; Coast Representative Shumate of Gina & Company, San Francisco, and H. R. King, clothing merchant of Seattle. The party will pack in from Wishon Camp, near Springville, and will spend wo days on the trail reaching their destination. Their extreme effort will be in the way of securing trout, hunting bucks and eating. All of the gether at different vacation periods at some mountain point, and all are said to be good cooks. In past camps Keech's long suit has been in carrying water, building fires and washing and wiping dishes. It is intimated that he now holds a degree as past master in these arts and has been promoted to chief chef for the impending assault on the wilds of Kern river. It is also intimated that a comprimise might be effected in the interest of the general health of the members of the party by the substitution of a professional travel in Crookshank's Cadillac Eight to Wishon.

Good Roads Day Comes During Touring Week

Governor Hiram W. Johnson has proclaimed August 9 Good Roads Day

August 9 comes next Wednesday, the middle of National Touring Week. Automobile men confidently predict that many who will be unable to take automobile trips taking up all of Touring Week, which begins Saturday and extends to August 12, will take automobile jaunts on Good Roads Day, August 9.

The action of the Governor in proclaiming August 9 Good Roads Day has had the effect of arousing enthusiasm for automobile trips to a pitch throughout the state.

HIGHWAY FATALITIES

A man with a taste for statistics kept track of the highway fatalities in the single county of Los Angeles from January 1, 1912, to December 31, 1916. He found that in that period the total was 521. Of these 211 were due to careless driving of automobiles; carelessness of pedestrians and bicycle riders caused 71. In eight instances drivers of horse-drawn vehicles were at fault, and 16 are ascribed to the negligence plans to get away on Good Roads Day, of railroad men. It is too bad that a special department was not devoted by the statistician to set ting forth the number of fatalities traceable directly to drink. Frequently the most appalling and inexcusable tragedies have occurred to parties speeding from a road house to the city, all drunk. Men have tried while drunk to run their machines through crowded streets, or in front of moving trains, disaster being the inevitable result. One so grossly criminal as even to attempt this should be arrested and severely punished, though checked before causing death or maining. Of course, when the drunken driver and his drunken friends are killed, there is nothing to be done except to point to this episode as a warning; which does no good. Santa Ana and Orange county motorists are entering with a vim into the spirit of Touring Week-it is certain that they will do more than their share to assure the co-operative success of the big movement.

Jogs Up Autoists

The object of Touring Week is to give procrastinating automobilists a jog-to induce them to "get busy' and cease putting off that trip to So-and So, which has been contemplated for eemed to materialize.

"Do it now." is one of the slogans of the backers of the idea.

Because of the ideal climatic condiions and the excellence of the roads fornia generally, touring, especially during the summer, never flags. But, with Touring Week officially designated to begin Saturday motoring will get an added impetus.

Scores of Santa Anans already have ompleted their summer's automobile outings. Others are now away. Still others, who had "been thinking" of aking "that trip," and who have now been made enthusiastic by the motoring activities brought about by the Couring Week plans, have at last definitely made up their minds as to the date when they will start.

GOOD ROADS DAY

Governor Johnson has proclaimed Wednesday, August 9, Good Roads Day in 'California. Many Santa Ana automobilists who will be unable to have their tours extend during the whole of Touring Week, have made

$151,063.92 Is Amount California Is to Get of Federal Moneys

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 3-The Secretary of Agriculture under date of July 21, 1916, certified to the Secretary of the Treasury and the governors and State highway departments of the several States the following apportionment of the $5,000,000 of Federal road funds available for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1917. This is the first installment of Federal moneys to be apportioned to the States under the Fed eral Aid Road Act approved July 11, 1916. Before making the division among the States, the Secretary, in accordance with the Act, deducted 3% of $150,000 needed for administering its provisions. This left $4,850,000 to apportioned among the States, third in the ratio of area, one-third in the ratio of population, and one-third in the ratio of mileage of rural deliv-ery routes and star routes. UP PIKE'S PEAK

Under perhaps the most dramatic circumstances ever attending the opening of a new highway, 200 autobakers, participated in a parade from Colorado Springs to Pike's Peak, July 16th, and successfully ascended the Pike's Peak Highway for the first time.

The celebration marked the formal AT LAST IS OPENED dedication of the new highway, which s the highest and in many respects the most wonderful motor road in the Throop World. The summit of Pike's Peak is 14,150 feet above the level of the sea.

Now that the new highway is complete, the trip to the summit of Pike's Peak is no longer the bugbear of tour ists that it once was. The long twisting up hill journey, however, still furnishes a severe trial to the power and hill-climbing ability of any car. Aside from the many sharp grades that are encountered between the base and the peak, there is the consideration of the distance above sea level and the rarified atmosphere at the 14,150-foot altitude which impose tests upon the ef ficiency of a motor car.

Of the 150 Studebaker cars that made the climb up the Pike's Peak Highway, all made the trip successfully and without trouble, giving them a performance record of 100 per cent perfect, according to a dispatch from Colorado City.

Country Thoroughfares Ought Not to Be Neglected Says Government

. WASHINGTON, Aug. 3—"Although it will be impractical for many years to come to improve more than a small per cent of the roads of the country with hard surfaces," said the United States office of Public Roads today, "roads should not be neglected, and with a little care may in many cases be made adequate to the needs of the community they serve."

Many country roads, the government experts said, may be greatly improved by judicious grading and systematic maintenance. "Frequently, especially in the south, the addition of sand or clay to the natural soil of the road is all that is necessary to make a road sufficiently good for all practical pur-

For grading and crowning the road, a drag made of the two halves of a split log is in general use. The split-log drag is made by joining the halves in a ver-tical position and attaching chains and double-trees so that when drawn by horses it moves along the road at an angle of 45 degrees, the foremost end to the side of the road, so that the earth may be directed toward the cen-

It would be hard to find a car more pleasing in lines and proportions or more satisfying in the details of finish than this Overland Model 85-Six. The car is long, and the body a beautiful example of streamline design. From the rounded edge of the radiator the lines sweep gracefully to the full curved back of the car. Crowned fenders, long and sweeping in their curves, and clean running boards emphasize the long, low appearance. The built-in windshield conforms to the curve of the cowl, making it a part of the car rather than a mere attachment. The rich Brewster green finish, white-striped, completes the thoroughly stylish appearance—the beauty of the car is apparent from any angle.

BATTERY CARE DURING TOURING ESSENTIAL, SAYS WILLARD AGENT

When a motor car owner starts on ook after that it is probably natural for him to forget some of the things which in the end are most important E. L. Matthews, in charge of the lo cal Willard Storage Battery Service Station, calls attention to the neces eity of battery care in touring.

"No doubt the most trouble with batteries in touring is caused by over-heating. This may be due to lack of water in the cells or using the starter and lights too little to offset the continual charginig.

"Those planning tours for National Touring Week should have their batries inspected before starting.
"Before starting on a long trip, car owner should have his batteries tested to see that the specific gravity tested to see that the specific gravity is up to the proper point and then he should see that every cell is filled with pure distilled water. If the use to which the car is put is far above normal, the battery may be likened to a man who eats heartily but gets little exercise. Illness follows and if the condition continues battery apopleys is sure to result. An overfed plexy is sure to result. An overfed battery heats up rapidly and if the driver does not give it sufficient exercise to balance the feed he gives it, he should check the temperature with a dairy thermometer from time to time, particularly when making long runs on warm days or when doing a great deal of continuous day driving. The temperature in the battery should not be allowed to exceed 120 degrees Fah-renheit. 100 degrees is a danger point and shows necessity for immediate action and remedy. If the bat-tery is being overfed, the remedy is to exercise it by keeping the lights burning when driving. To counteract the over-feeding." This will Bear Lake at present is full of little fish, particularly at the eastern end in the shallows. fishing tackle in hand that millions of eggs would have been lost to the lake. The average Bear Lake trout of adult spawning size, about 7 pounds, will produce no less than 3,500 eggs, weighing about 220 to the ounce; the largest taken at the spawning-traps weighed 10½ lbs. and she was a veritable fish foundry, no less than 6,000 spawn being stripped from her. Thus, every spawning fish taken is an extravagance, and an offense against every angler who comes after.

Of the average 3,500 eggs, fertility granted, in the favorable conditions of Bear Lake, where insect-life is so plentiful that the trout are not nearly out by gaffers and netters under cover of a right to be on the streams with cut in two, halved and quartered, and still the argument in behalf of pro tecting the fecund spawners is appalling in its figures. Everything possi ble is being done to reduce the natur al enemies of these trout to give the fishermen no competition; and at the rate the fish are increasing in spite

by the enormous demands being made by the army of angling licensees busy-ing itself with them, nothing but the big annual increase of volume of Bear Lake the last two seasons has kept pace with the gain in the fish, which seem just as plentiful over that much greater area of 1916 as they did over the lake of 1915, and more than over the relatively small space of the year

Now, Bear Lake is up about to its Now, Bear Lake is up about to its limit, and the fish will increase to the point of saturation. Another year will see them so plentiful that they will catch up to the capacity of the lake for raising insect-food. They will be hungrier then; easier than now to hook, and being bigger, perhaps harder to hold. But the smaller ones will be biting better then; and in this way, the factor of Man, instead of being the disturbing element in the natural equation, will take proper place as the equalizing feature.

That is the scientific solution of such sporting and economic problems as exists in Bear Lake, and is one of the things Fish and Game Commissioners are for. The rank and file of anglers know little of these problems; but while they are debating the undeniable fact that these fish are rain-bow trout and not the salmon sug-gested by silvery scales and pink flesh, the scientific experts are quietly gathering data and studying out the abstruce questions of life under that green, algae-bespeckled water, and planning to take advantage of every favorable condition in behalf of improving the sport. Sometimes a little four-eyed chap with a scientific bent stumbles on to something in a night's thinking that means more to sport than all the noisy fellows who claim everything and do nothing toward the perpetuation.

Deer conditions are on the mend in Southern California, although in the opinion of experts, it never can be very much better for this class of hunting until the public generally awakens to the need of concerted action against the vermin.

The Fish and Game Commission has paid mountain lion bounties for years, $20 for each animal destroyed. One deer is worth considerably more to the State than that; in fact 100 pounds of venison alone equals the value for meat; and any lion will destroy a deer a week if he can.

Other vermin are equally destructive in proportion to smaller game.

Most hunters have heard these things, but only those who have taken the time and pains to investigate for them-selves have fully realized it.

IDEAL TIRE SHOP IS DOING FINE BUSINESS

One of the busiest places in town this hot weather is the ideal Tire Shop. The hotter the weather the more tire troubles and therefore the greater demand for the vulcanizer's services. There are no small number of motorists who have discovered that "Billy's" shop turns out a quality of tire repairing that is highly satisfactory and with National Touring week near at hand there is an unusual rush of business.

Before 5000 enthusiastic spectators, a stock Saxon 'Six" captured two firsts and a third place, and won the most points in the demonstration contest held at the San Diego Exposition Motor Demonstration Show.

The performance of the Saxon was so convincing that a spectator bought and paid for the victorious 'Six" on the Exposition Grounds, and without waiting to get it cleaned up, drove the winning car home.

The hill climb, which the Saxon won, was one of the most gruelling ever staged to test motor cars. Contestants in this event were required to drive down the fifty-five per cent grade of Exposition hill and up the thirty-five per cent pitch. Then, the drivers were obliged to turn around and reverse the order of descending and climbing. The Saxon not only made the best time, but was one of the few cars able to reach the top of the fifty-five per cent grade.

See at our Salesroom the Car that DETROIT Likes Better than any other in the World

In Detroit, where people KNOW cars, more Studebakers are in use than any other cars listing at more than $500.

This is significant.

For the simple reason that Detroit is the Home of Automobiles. More than three-fourths of the cars manufactured in the United States are made in Detroit.

In Detroit a BIG percentage of the residents are either directly engaged in the motor industry-or come into DAILY contact with people who are.

They talk cars. They study cars. They hear gossip from all the great factories established in the city. They know the plants and the efficiency of the manufacturing organizations. They know the men back of the cars.

And as a whole, knowledge of automobiles is far more general and EXACT in Detroit than in any other city on the earth.

So when you know that for the entire year of 1915, registrations in Detroit showed MORE Studebakers in use than any other cars selling at more than $500, it can mean but one thing: that to the people of Detroit, people who KNOW cars and who KNOW VALUE IN CARS, Studebaker offers the top value of the market!

And this fact is all the more significant when you know that Studebaker has only been selling cars in Detroit for about half as long as its nearest competitors have.

In half the time, Studebaker has outstripped them all, and today you go to Detroit, and you find more Studebakers on the streets than any other make of cars costing over $500.

Be sure to see the new SERIES 17 Studebakers at the show-The Cars of the GOLDEN Chassis.
